Practice

I completed pupillage at Exchange Chambers in 2007 and began to develop a general common law practise.

My P.I. work is varied; I act for claimants and defendants undertaking all aspects of advisory and court work. I maintain a very busy practice encompassing Fast-Track, Multi-Track and catastrophic injury work.

Housing law work makes up a significant proportion of my practice. I am frequently instructed by landlords and am particularly interested in anti-social behaviour litigation.

The success of my practice is built on good relationships with solicitors, quick turnaround of paperwork, flexibility in addressing case management issues and determined court advocacy.

Personal

Born and bred in Salford, I spent 3 happy years at university in the north east and an equally happy year at law school in the east midlands, but it was always my intention to return to Manchester.

Having been born in sight of Old Trafford, I'm an avid Manchester United fan, but I also follow most American sports (particularly the NFL and the New York Jets). I enjoy reading (especially Douglas Coupland), music and cinema.
