Giles continues to be noted as a leader in his field and is well regarded for his 'technical knowledge and commercial know-how'. He is experienced in dealing with substantial commercial litigation at all levels up to and including the Court of Appeal and in recent years has successfully completed a number of high profile corporate fraud cases.

Banking comprises litigation for several of the leading clearing and high street banks. Commercial Litigation includes complex fraud and the resolution of contentious contractual issues involving multinational companies.

Company and Insolvency includes disqualification for DBERR and respondent directors; preference; misfeasance and other work for liquidators and other office holders including company administrations, corporate and individual voluntary arrangements and receivership problems; shareholder disputes; and individual bankruptcy work.

Professional Negligence work is predominantly claimant orientated with occasional work for solicitors, surveyors and accountants.

Sports Law involves disciplinary proceedings, challenges to the decisions of sports regulatory bodies and breach of confidentiality including urgent injunctive relief.
