Crime CV Overview

David specialises in serious crime, fraud, inquests and regulatory law. He is regularly instructed in high profile criminal cases involving serious and organised crime including murder/manslaughter, armed robbery, commercial fraud, money laundering, large scale drugs conspiracies, firearms, human trafficking and rape.

Many of David's cases have been reported extensively in the local and national press. In addition, David has represented a number of individuals over the years that have featured in cases shown on Crimewatch UK.

He is also trusted to represent police officers on behalf of the Police Federation when officers find themselves facing disciplinary and/or criminal proceedings. Such cases involve allegations of assault, perverting the course of justice, sexual offences, possession of Class A drugs and misconduct in a public office.

David takes a pro-active and determined approach to every case. He works closely with instructing solicitors at each stage of a case and is always available to discuss any issues that may arise. He can provide advice on difficult areas of law, evidential complexities and strategic considerations at very short notice to enable his instructing solicitors to give immediate feedback to their clients. His strong work ethic and meticulous preparation ensure that he is able to deliver an exceptional service to all of his clients.

David has completed the accredited Bar Council training which allows him to accept Direct Access instructions.

Recommendations

The Legal 500 has described him over the years as “building a very good practice”, “somebody who takes complex cases and who is very good to work with” and a barrister “who is able to play ball with the big boys and gets some great results”.

Cases

Regina v. EE - £100 million pound European conspiracy to import/distribute Class A drugs – the case involved defendants from seven European countries.

Regina v. PD and Others – “Operation Norfolk” involved the investigation into a £50 million pound conspiracy to import/distribute Class A drugs.

Regina v. CG - £4 million money laundering case involving the proceeds of a drugs operation headed by the defendant’s husband. He had already received 25 years imprisonment for Importation of Class A drugs having been convicted at an earlier trial. The defendant was acquitted of money laundering.

Regina v. PF - £25 million conspiracy to supply heroin and cocaine – the case against the defendant did not proceed after extensive legal argument lasting many weeks.

Regina v. MW – double murder of two alcoholics in their own home. Regina v. KB – the torture and murder of a suspected paedophile.

Regina v. SL – murder of elderly lady who disturbed a burglar in her own home – defendant was acquitted as a result of alibi evidence and extensive consideration of CCTV evidence by the defence which placed him away from the scene at the relevant time.

Regina v. MW – 36 armed robberies over a six-month period, this case featured on Crimewatch UK.

Regina v. MA & JM – 10 cash-in-transit armed robberies on G4S vehicles. Regina v. IT – serious organised crime group involved in targeting high-end jewellers selling luxury Swiss watches.

Regina v. AJ – series of armed robberies on owners of high performance supercars stolen to order for export or for the commission of further criminal offences. Regina v. DJ & Others – represented four of the ringleaders of the “Naughty Forty” Stoke City Football hooligan firm. This involved large-scale football related violent disorder, which occurred throughout Manchester City Centre.

Regina v AK – serious violent disorder between two rival Asian gangs in the Lancashire area – a shotgun was discharged during the incident.

Regina v YM – serious assault and violent disorder between the members of an extended Asian family in the Staffordshire area – all five defendants were acquitted after a four week trial as a result of legal argument resurrected after the close of both the prosecution and defence cases.

Regina v. PK & Others – large-scale conspiracy to defraud involving bogus sponsorship acquired from UK businesses in excess of £8 million.

Regina v. RG & Others – large scale conspiracy to defraud and converting criminal property involving in excess of £1 million – bogus bailiffs contacting small businesses threatening action if payment not made immediately.
