Practice Overview

David was amongst the first of his generation when he was appointed Queen's Counsel on 22 February 2016.

He has conducted commercial litigation with an emphasis on insolvency, insolvency-related litigation, company and commercial fraud matters since he started in practice.

As a junior he appeared as lead counsel in the Court of Appeal for one of the respondents in Utilise TDS Limited v Davies & Bolton College [2014] EWCA Civ 906 when fresh guidance was given on the way in which CPR 3.9 was to be applied (reported as Denton v TH White Ltd and other appeals). Other appearances in the Court of Appeal in 2015 include Secretary of State for Business, Innovation and Skills v PLT Anti-Marketing Ltd [2015] EWCA Civ 76.

David's practice presently covers commercial litigation including commercial fraud; all types of insolvency work; company and shareholder disputes; banking and asset recovery; professional negligence and sports law. David's advice builds from his intricate knowledge and is pragmatic and strategic, recognising the commercial realities facing clients and their objectives. He is recognised for his in-depth, analytical understanding of cases and his grounded nature and client-friendly manner.

He also practises from Three Stone, 3 Stone Buildings, Lincoln's Inn, London WC2A 3XL; www.threestone.law.
