Environmental Regulation CV

Overview

Emma has a successful practice in serious and regulatory crime. She has been instructed in a number of environmental cases and has experience in appearing in cases where the new guidelines have been applied.

As an experienced criminal practitioner, Emma is adept at plea and mitigations where custodial penalties are considered. She appreciates that when representing companies and professionals, knowledge of the proceedings and discussion of the likely outcomes are vitally important. To that end, Emma is happy to give advice both pre and post charge.

At trial, Emma is adept at handling voluminous papers and grasping with complex issues being able to clearly present them to a jury.

Emma has very quickly established herself as one of the leading juniors on the circuit. Recommendations from her peers in Chambers and Partners for the last four years are testament to her popularity and tenacity in Court.

Recommendations
