Criminal Overview

Huw's practice involves the most serious criminal offences, and he is often instructed in large multi-handed cases. He was instructed as a junior taking part in the disclosure process of the Hillsborough investigation, and so is particularly able to deal with disclosure issues in large, paper heavy cases.

He is a Category 4 Prosecutor and is on the specialist panel for Rape and Serious Sexual Offences (RASSO).

Recommendations

"Huw has an excellent grasp of complex and voluminous material and is particularly skillful at cross-examining expert witnesses."

The Legal 500 2024

Cases

Operation Warmth – junior for defence in money laundering conspiracy, allegedly involving the movement of £150 million in criminal proceeds.

Operation Marley – prosecution counsel in a conspiracy to possess firearms with intent to endanger life, involving the transfer of a scoped rifle with ammunition and sound moderator to an organised crime group.

R v JS – Leading counsel in a multi handed, multi million pound drug conspiracy. This case involved scrutiny of a vast amount of telephone data and cell site evidence.

Operation Warbird – Prosecuting junior in a first of its kind prosecution of immigration offences arising from sham colleges.

R v HJ – Defence Counsel in a Rochdale grooming case involving many defendants and spanning several months. The amount of material generated in this case was vast and required detailed analysis of unused material.

Beyond The Bar

Huw read Political Science at the University of Leeds. Following his graduation he moved to London where he was employed as an intern researcher for a Member of Parliament. He went on to work for the Prison and Probation Ombudsman's office. In 2008 he completed his Graduate Diploma in Law and in 2009 he was called to the bar following his successful completion of the Bar Vocational Course.
