Personal Injury

Mark's practice is exclusively in personal injury litigation. He represents both claimants and defendants. His largest claim to date settled for £4.75 million. Mark has an extensive background in personal injury litigation and has particular interest and expertise in significant head injury, multiple orthopaedic injuries, serious spinal injury, claims involving extensive care and/or the need for alternative or adapted housing.

Mark prides himself on being amiable and has the ability to put his clients at ease throughout all stages of instruction. He ensures clients have his full attention at all times and believes communication between barrister and client is of prime importance.

Other areas of his practice include advice and advocacy in difficulty liability issues, fatal accident claims and psychiatric injuries.

Beyond the Bar

Mark enjoys spending time with his family wherever possible. He enjoys travelling, walking and cycling.
