Overview

Alice acts exclusively for Defendants and is recognised as a leading junior by the Legal 500. She is a specialist in civil fraud, negligence and costs. Her High Court and multi-track work includes clinical negligence, personal injury, insurance disputes and costs litigation. She is instructed as a sole junior against King's Counsel.

She has substantial experience in claims arising out of employer's liability, occupier's liability, product liability and public liability.

In 2019 she was one of the youngest barristers to be appointed a Recorder.

Her strong academic background, outstanding written and oral advocacy and judicial experience make her first choice counsel for a number of insurers and defence firms.

She really focuses her mind on the case she is working on and compiles sound and robust advice, and she is particularly good when considering fundamental dishonesty and has strategic ways of investigating and combatting such issues.”
