Inquests

Kerron has experience of inquests arising from instances such as road traffic fatalities and deaths following medical intervention. His particular experience in personal injury and clinical negligence allows him to provide expert advice to clients where there are contemplated civil proceedings. He has significant experience of the hospital environment having developed a significant clinical negligence practice.

Inquests

Kerron's case experience includes:

Represented the family of a woman killed in a road traffic accident in Egypt. The inquest dealt with the inadequacy of the Egyptian police investigation. Represented the family of a woman who died of natural causes in hospital, but under a DNR order of which the family were not aware.

Beyond the Bar

Away from work, Kerron has two children and when not spending time with them he is a keen fan of football and controversially elects to support a team from a different city than the one he lives in. When he is not dealing with abuse from Liverpool fans, he finds time to read and enjoy playing one or two sports.
