- Criminal Bar Association

Criminal

Tim practises exclusively in crime and has 25 years of experience at the criminal bar. He prosecutes and defends almost every offence in the criminal calendar including:

- Murder and attempted murder
- Manslaughter
- Rapes and other serious sexual offences
- Firearms offences, fraud
- Major car ringing and clocking cases
- All varieties of arson
- Major drugs importation and supply cases
- Major 'bootlegging' cases causing death by dangerous driving
- Serious assaults
- Major public order offences

He has prosecuted for Revenue & Customs, the Department for Work and Pensions, and the DTI, amongst others.

Tim has conducted a number of health and safety prosecutions involving deaths (including one particularly complex case for Liverpool City Council involving asphyxiation by nitrogen).

Beyond the Bar

Tim lives in a 17th Century house in a small village, which he serves, along with a number of others like it, on a District Council which is one of the few independent controlled councils in the country. Local politics is to some extent a hobby (albeit one he takes very seriously), along with walking and cycling with his family, gardening, very occasional games of golf and eating out.
